DETAILED ACTION

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

The application has been amended as follows:

1. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

The title is changed as follows: "Liquid crystal display having a spontaneous polarization".

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

2. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 08/03/2004 has been entered.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1, 3-5, 7-9, 11-13 and 15-17 are allowed.
4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

A search of the prior art did not disclose a liquid crystal display comprising a combination of structural elements, more specifically:

(a) The spontaneous polarization of the liquid crystal is a magnitude of not more than $1/2$ of a quantity of charge that is injected into a liquid crystal element corresponding to a pixel when the maximum driving voltage is applied to the liquid crystal element when the switching element is turned on, which is a relatively short period in which the spontaneous polarization barely responds, and

(b) The liquid crystal has a relative dielectric constant of not less than 3, and not being affected by the spontaneous polarization.

The previously cited prior art by Nishi et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,541,747) is silent on the maximum driving voltage and also does not teach a specific value of not less than 3 to the relative dielectric constant that is not being affected by the spontaneous polarization.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
